ILLINOIS PROHIBITION FIGHT

Chicago, Ill., April 6.—The hottest and most extensive fight the Prohibitionists have ever made in Illinois is nearing the finish. Tomorrow nearly 2,000 cities and villages will vote on the question of "wet or dry." The contest is being waged in some portion of every county of the State except twelve, most of which went dry last November.

In some of the cities the fight has been carried on with an intensity seldom equaled, and the lines are being so closely drawn that for the time being activities in the big political parties have been brought to a practical standstill in order that they may not conflict with the strife over prohibition.

Every city of central Illinois, with the exception of Peoria, will vote upon the prohibition question. The largest of these is Springfield, the capital of the State, where 4,000 registered voters will rally to the polls to decide whether or not the 210 saloons of the city shall be closed. As Springfield is one of the largest cities in the north to take up this big issue and out it to a vote, people of other cities, not only throughout Illinois but adjoining States, are watching for the result.

Outside of Chicago only four of the large cities of Illinois are without a fight over the prohibition question. They are Quincy, Ottawa, Peoria and East St. Louis. In the latter city the question was kept off the ballot because the petition was filed with the city clerk instead of with the election commission.

STATEMENT FROM MR. MALONEY.

Bryan, Texas, April 6th, 1908.

To the Voters of Bryan:

For a while it seemed that the people of Bryan were unable to get officers to represent them, but on the eve of the election there is such a shower of candidates that unquestionably some of them are able to supply any demand that may be made upon them.

The time is so short I will have no opportunity to speak to the voters in person; therefore I think it is only fair that I state the principal things I propose doing in the event I am elected.

First—I believe in good public schools, and will do all that I can to make ours equal to the best.

Second, our streets are one of the most important factors in the upbuilding of Bryan, and I believe that we should do all that we possibly can in improving our streets and sidewalks and the roads leading into town.

Third, It is essential that the fire department of the town be improved to meet the requirements of the insurance underwriters. Otherwise the fire insurance rates will soon become prohibitive. I will recommend that the requirements of the underwriters be met, and that the water works company be required to keep their plugs in good repair and a proper amount of pressure on at all times.

Fourth, The finances of the city should be safeguarded by the officers so as to save to the people every cent possible. I promise that I will do everything that I can to economize in the administration of the city's affairs.

In conclusion I will say that it will always be my effort to upbuild Bryan, and I shall always stand for a Greater Bryan.

(Adx.) J. T. MALONEY,
Candidate for Mayor.

BLOOD FLOWS.

Troops and Populace Clash at City of Lisbon.

Lisbon, April 6.—This city was in a state of intense excitement Monday over the election riots of Sunday night, brought on by the indignant protests of the Republican element that it was defrauded at the polls. Great crowds filled Pedro square and massed in front of St. Dominique church, these points being the chief centers of Republican disorder. Troops, consisting of cavalry and infantry, were called from the barracks and charged on the assembled multitude. As the troops advanced they were met by showers of stones. The soldiers charged repeatedly, finally opening fire on the mob. Intense disorder ensued. One observer says the streets were literally red with blood. No official statement of the number of killed and wounded has yet been issued, and pending authority from government sources, no official or press statement were permitted to be telegraphed concerning the extent of these casualties.

Following the bloody street affray three newspaper offices, the organs of the Franciscos, Regenerators and Nationalists, were mobbed.

The people finally fled in terror to their homes, the cavalry pursuing groups through the streets and dispersing them as they sought reform at street corners.

Counting ballots on the election proceeds slowly. Some districts are being held up by order of the government. Ballot boxes are being guarded by police, backed by a large force of troops. Thus far not a single Republican candidate has been declared elected, although the count 107 districts is understood to have been completed.

FIN-FEATHER IMPROVEMENTS

New Members Elected and Plans for Improvements—Committee has the Matter in Charge.

The Fin-Feather Club held a meeting yesterday afternoon and Mrs. O. H. Astin, J. R. Astin and E. H. Astin were elected to membership. A committee of five with the power to act was appointed to consider further improvements at the lake south of the city. The improvements contemplated embrace a pavilion and bowling alley and a bath house. The committee having the matter in charge is composed of Seth Mooring, H. A. Burger, J. W. Batte, O. E. Saunders and T. K. Lawrence.

BY TIPS OF FINGERS.

McLennan County Man Displays Wonderful Quick Wit.

Waco, April 6.—Having driven into the Bosque to water their horse while out driving Will Parshall of Waco and Miss Ethel Daniels of Texarkana were thrown into the water fifteen feet deep. They sank once and would have drowned, as neither could swim, but W. R. Moore and two other young men plunged in. Miss Daniels started to grab Moore, but he swam out of the way and pulled her and Parshall ashore by the finger tips of Miss Daniels, as Parshall had hold of her in trying to save her.

KATY OF OFFICIALS IN TEXAS.

Object of Trip Is Purely One of Business and Inspection.

Fort Worth, April 6.—A party of Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway officials stopped off here a short time Monday en route to Galveston to take part in the annual election of the Galveston, Houston and Henderson Railway company. In the party are President Joline, and Vice-President C. G. Hedge, New York; Traffic Manager C. Halle, St. Louis; General Manager A. A. Allen, St. Louis; Controller R. W. Maguire, St. Louis, and General Superintendent T. S. McDowell, Dallas. Mr. Joline said the object of the trip is purely annual business and inspection. He said Texas prosperity impresses the east. The special consists of five private cars, with observation and baggage cars.

In addition to the five Reports of Condition that are published and the two Personal Examinations made by Special Officers each year,

The City National Bank

Believes firmly that All National Banks should be required to Publish their list of Stockholders for the guidance and advice of Depositors.

A national Bank with a responsible list of Shareholders—all home people—all well known—all identified with the best interests of the Town and County in which the Bank is located should naturally receive preference over a National Bank with shareholders scattered all over the State, many of them with no interest in the town or county, save to draw their dividends and take the money from your midst.

Our list of Shareholders have been published from time to time and every Dollar of our Earnings has been kept at Home and today is being loaned to our Farmers and Merchants.

We would be glad of an opportunity to do business with You, come talk it over with us.

REVIVAL AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Splendid Sermons by Rev. T. N. Compton—Pastor and Church Making United Effort—Immediate Result.

The congregation at the morning service Sunday filled the auditorium and about two thirds of the Sunday school room. In addition to several beautiful numbers by the choir the quartette heretofore mentioned in the Eagle again sang "Rock of Ages," with thrilling, soul-stirring effect.

In a few words Pastor Butler introduced Evangelist Compton, of Owensboro, Ky., who will assist Dr. Butler in the services during this week and next. Dr. Compton stands about six feet four or five inches in height and is well proportioned. He is a man of commanding presence, his whole physique showing lines of strength.

Without preliminary remarks Dr. Compton read the first eleven verses of the twelfth chapter of Hebrews, relating to the sufferings of the church at Jerusalem. After a beautiful solo by Mrs. J. Webb Howell, the text was read in the 15, 16, 17, and 19 verses of the fourth chapter of first Peter.

"But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief or as an evil doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters. Yet if any man suffer as a christian, let him not be ashamed. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God; and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful creator."

The subject of the initial sermon was "The Uses of Suffering." All suffering is either by the permission or by the direction of God and is necessary in the order of things. Of course an omnipotent God could annihilate the devil and obliterate suffering, but by so doing he would destroy the freedom of his creatures. We can only know things by comparison or contrast; joy and sorrow, pleasure and pain, are correlated ideas. The one cannot exist without the other. A long string of scripture passages were quoted to show that suffering and salvation are coupled together throughout the word of God. Examples of patriarchs, prophets, apostles and martyrs were cited, all of whom were great sufferers. Then in graphic realistic language Dr. Compton painted a picture of the coliseum at Rome and every word was vibrant with pathos while he described his emotions when he stood amid its ruins on the very spot where sixty-thousand martyrs had met death in all its horrible forms as a testimony of their faith in Jesus. But the greatest of all sufferers was Jesus. The awful Tragedy of the Cross was in imagination re-acted while women sobbed and strong men wept. In conclusion, Dr. Compton insisted on the need of every christian heart being willingly and lovingly submissive to the will of God, and asked all who could say or would pray to be able to say: "Thy will be done," to come and give him their hand. Very few failed to respond to the invitation.

In response to another proposition about half a dozen persons asked for prayers of the church.

In the afternoon there was a special service for the young people, which was well attended and was an occasion of much interest.

At the evening service the church was full to the doors. The boarding students of Allen Academy attended in a body. The special musical feature was a solo by Mr. J. D. Ganter. Dr. Compton read the last fifteen verses of the seventeenth chapter of Acts, including the sermon of the Apostle Paul to the Athenians on Mars hill. The text was, "Now God commandeth all men everywhere to repent." The nature of repentance was briefly discussed, and its relation to faith. It is not penance, nor is it simply a reformation of the conduct. It includes a consciousness of sin against God and realization of the exceeding sinfulness of sin. This consciousness is necessarily followed by the most poignant sorrow and a determination to turn away from that which is offensive to God. It was a doctrinal discourse, abounding in strong points, fortified with quotations from scripture. In the application the old, old story of the cross was told again with much feeling and sympathetic effect. The peroration was an earnest call to repentance, in response to which numbers in all parts of the house asked to be numbered among those who were the objects of especial prayers.

Yesterday morning there were about 175 persons at the service, most of whom were christians. All the protestant pastors of the city were present and each pledged his cooperation in the work. The subject of Dr. Compton's sermon was prayer, the text being the first clause of the 15 verse of the 5th chapter of James: "The prayer of faith shall save." The philosophy of prayer was considered in its scientific relations, and with ability equal to that displayed in discussing the uses of suffering on Sunday. The salient points were between "faith in prayer" and "prayer in faith," and the fact that prevailing prayer works without worrying and perseveres without patience.

AN APPEAL.

The series of meetings for which the pastor and the members of the first baptist church in Bryan have been planning for one year have begun. There were three splendid services Sunday. The audiences were large, attention good and spirit fine. There were five professions at the young peoples' mass meeting at 3 p. m. and there were ten for prayer at the evening service. The meeting was arranged for at this particular time, for the reason that it is the most convenient for all classes, because we desire the whole community to share in the benefits of the revival. There is no rush of business now for the merchants, lawyers, doctors, mechanics or in any other line. Some of the force in every store can be in the 10:30 a. m. service and we shall expect every firm to be represented. The merchants and professional men know this is a church community and they know they have made their money out the christian people largely. Not only do they appreciate this fact, but many of them are christians themselves and the majority of the others know that a real revival will build up confidence and manhood and establish fellowship one with another.

Dr. T. N. Compton of Ky. is here to do the preaching and all who have heard him know he is one of the world's great preachers and evangelists. He will do his part—will you do yours?

DIED SUDDENLY IN AUSTIN.

Mr. George Norrell, Formerly of this City and a Student of the University—Son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Norrell.

Relatives in this city were advised Friday evening of the death of Mr. George Norrell, 21 years old, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Norrell of Houston, and a sophomore at the State University at Austin. Mr. Norrell was born and reared in Bryan, and his sudden death from heart failure was a great shock to the people of this city, as well as to the family and friends in Houston, the present home. Mr. Norrell had been playing ball and it is thought the shock of a cold bath produced the fatal result. Mr. Norrell leaves his parents and two sisters, Mrs. J. G. Leavell and Miss Grace Norrell. Mr. Norrell's remains were laid to rest in Houston yesterday, and accompanied to that city by six classmates of the University.

A BUSINESS MEN'S TICKET.

In the proper column of The Eagle this morning will be found the announcements of Mr. Ed Hall for Mayor and Messrs. Ed S. Derden, Eugene H. Edge and E. J. Fountain for Aldermen. The gentlemen constitute a progressive business men's ticket brought out by friends among whom are numbered many of the leading business men of the city. At the solicitation of their neighbors and friends they have consented to make the race and if elected will give the city an economical and progressive business administration.

Mr. Hall is a leading business man of Bryan and has long been identified with the best interests of the city. He has occupied many positions of trust and responsibility and has demonstrated fine executive and financial ability. He is at present president of the city school board, and if elected mayor will bring to the service of the city the splendid business qualifications which are indispensable in that position.

Reference is made elsewhere to the splendid qualifications of Mr. Ed S. Derden for Alderman. He is wide-awake young business man and will leave no opportunity unemployed to work for the good of the town.

Mr. Eugene H. Edge is another of the type of successful young business men who have forged to the front within a few years. He is a progressive merchant, a property owner and a man, who while possessed of a reasonable amount of conservatism, likes to see things moving. It is safe to say that if elected an alderman he will bring to the service of the city the same activity and energy that has characterized his course in business.

Mr. E. J. Fountain was born and reared in this city and is recognized as one of the best and most successful business men in the community. He has a firm and decisive character in business matters and a keen insight into the merits of a proposition. He is experienced a considering affairs of magnitude and would bring to the service of the city as an alderman the qualifications for efficient service.

The Eagle takes pleasure in presenting the names of these gentlemen to the voters of Bryan.

BUSTER BROWN AND TIGER.

See them to-day in the flesh at Eugene Edge's Fashion Shop on the Corner. They will be there and every boy and girl in Bryan and Brazos county is invited to be present and see the funny things they will do. Every boy and girl will also receive a souvenir. A platform was built for Buster and Tiger yesterday.

GOLF CLUB CALL.

The Golf Club will hold an important meeting for election of officers and other business at Carnegie Hall this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

M. L. Massingill,
President.

Miss Etta Goodson is visiting at Godley, Texas.
"Because I Love You" by home talent, April 10th, 50 and 75c. 107

J. T. MALONEY FOR MAYOR.

The Eagle is authorized to announce Mr. J. T. Maloney for mayor at the city election to be held today. Mr. Maloney is a well known and progressive citizen of Bryan, prominently and permanently identified with the town, and an extensive property owner. He is a capable business man and has had experience in municipal affairs. If elected the Eagle believes he will serve the city efficiently and creditably. He enters the present contest in response to repeated solicitation.

W. R. SANDERS FOR MAYOR.

With due authority the Eagle presents the name of Mr. W. R. Sanders as a candidate for Mayor at the city election to be held today. Mr. Sanders is known as a conservative business man and one of the most substantial citizens of the community. He is in every way qualified for the important duties of looking after the varied interests of the city, and if elected will, we feel confident, give the same attention to the public business as he does to his own affairs.

Mr. Sanders has consented to make the race at the earnest solicitation of friends. He is not a candidate for alderman.

E. S. DERDEN FOR ALDERMAN.

The Eagle is authorized to announce Mr. E. S. Derden as a candidate for Alderman at the city election to be held today. Mr. Derden was born and raised in Bryan and is a leading young business man of the community. From boyhood he has borne the reputation of being safe and conservative in business matters, and he has held a number of responsible positions, his course having been one of continuous advancement. We believe he is qualified to serve efficiently as a member of the city council.

J. E. COVEY FOR ALDERMAN.

The Eagle has been authorized to announce J. E. Covey as a candidate for re-election as alderman at the city election to be held today. Mr. Covey is one of the most active of the present council, in which position he has given much of his time and labor during regular business hours to the public service without compensation. He has demonstrated his qualifications and fitness for the duties of the office and The Eagle takes pleasure in presenting his name.

CITY ELECTION TODAY.

Blank Ballots are Provided at the Polls on Which the Names of Candidates Must be Written.

The city election will be held today, and announcements of candidates will be found elsewhere in the Eagle. No printed names will appear on the official ballot, there having been no primary for the lack of candidates at that time. The name of whoever the voter desires to cast his ballot for may be written on tickets printed with blanks at the polls. The city council held a meeting yesterday afternoon, J. W. Batts, O. E. Saunders and Judge of the election.

HEART THrice STITCHED.

Remarkable Surgical Operation
Takes Place.

REMOVED FROM THE BODY

Five Hours After the Organ Had Been Treated For a Knife Cut the Man
Was Able to Converse, and Though
In Critical State May Recover.

Yonkers, N. Y., April 6.—With a knife wound in his heart that was very minute, bringing him near to death, Robert Inglis, a young athlete of Yonkers, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and within fifteen minutes was on the operating table, where a surgeon opened his breast, lifted out the heart, took three stitches in it and replaced the organ. A few hours later the patient was able to talk and the physicians said that his recovery was possible, although his condition was still considered extremely critical with the chances against him.

Inglis received his wound following a wordy altercation with three strangers on the street. The hospital happened to be nearby and the injured man was hurried to it. The stitches had to be taken when the heart was disintegrated or between heart beats, for if they had been taken when the organ was contracted they would have been worn away when the heart swelled against with blood. Removal of a portion of two ribs on the left side was necessary before the heart could be taken out. The stitches were made with catgut. Inglis when he recovered consciousness identified Paul Fornisky, whom the police had arrested, as the man who had assaulted him.

INTO A SHAPELESS MASS.

Clothing on Fire, Woman Leaps From Window and Awfully Mangled.

New York, April 6.—One woman lost her life and nearly a score of men and women were injured, and as many more were rescued from death in flames during a fire which destroyed the four-story tenement house at 470 Pearl street Monday morning.

The woman, Julia Isola, twenty-two years old, lived with her father, brother and two sisters on the fourth floor of the building. She jumped from a window after her clothing had taken fire from the flames, which twirled around the window where she and her father, brother and sisters were waiting for aid. Almost before the body struck the stone paved street and was crushed into shapeless mass. Firemen succeeded in raising an extension ladder to the window and other members of the family were taken down in safety.

Pioneer Passes Away.

Waxahachie, Tex., April 6.—Colonel B. F. Spaulding, an Ellis county pioneer, coming here before the civil war, and twice president of the Waxahachie National bank, is dead.

Blackbirds Pull Up Corn.

Terrell, Tex., April 6.—Farmers report that blackbirds are pulling up young corn in some localities, greatly damaging the stand.

Littlefield Voted In Negative.

Washington, April 6.—House passed employers' liability bill 300 to 1. Littlefield cast negative vote.

Captured by Colombians.

Panama, April 6.—Jurado has been captured by Colombian soldiers.

ITALIAN SOCIETIES TO UNITE.

Two Days Meeting Held Here Accomplished Much Towards that End... —Entertained by Saladiner.

As announced in The Eagle of Sunday morning a meeting of the representatives of the Italian societies of the state was held here Sunday and yesterday under the Agricultural and Benevolent Society of Brazos county, with the president of this Society, Carmeo Dringuardo, presiding over the general sessions. Owing to the press of business affairs at home all the delegates expected were not present, and the election of general officers was postponed until a later meeting. The matter of by-laws and constitution was very generally discussed, however, and much of the work accomplished. The object of the general organization is to bring these several societies into closer relationship and to inform Italian citizens of the state regarding American institutions, laws and customs that they may more rapidly and usefully adopt themselves in their new home.

N. Lamonte represented San Salvador Society of Beaumont; V. Komendi and G. Russo, Christopher Columbus Society of Waco. Credentials were sent by societies of Houston, Galveston and San Antonio.

J. M. Saladiner was prominent in receiving and entertaining the visitors and in the deliberations of the meetings. Mr. and Mrs. Saladiner entertained the delegates at Dinner Sunday night and Mrs. Saladiner presented each of the visitors with handsome bouquets of roses which were gratefully acknowledged.
